

Lean Six Sigma

Competitive markets and environmental pressures are driving organizations to consider a new strategy for transformation. Faced with spiraling costs, the traditional improvement approach is not enough to ensure a sustainable future. Applying Lean Six Sigma Processes can meet and exceed market demands under the toughest economies.

Lean Six Sigma (LSS) provides a structured approach to reduce errors and cycle time leading to realized value for your company. Using LSS Methodology to identify issues having significant impact on your bottom line, our experts deliver quantifiable and sustainable results.

Lean Six Sigma initiatives yield breakthrough results with dedicated support from experienced professionals at Boxley Group.

Directional Alignment

Realizing the need for change is the first step toward transformation. We partner with clients to find the opportunities & delivery value by:

- Identifying and eliminating waste
- Locating and eliminating root cause failures
- Rationalizing and removing redundancies
- Selecting and delivering LSS Projects
- Training and enabling teams to use LSS tools
- Increasing product or service reliability
- Delivering sustainable solutions

The Lean Six Sigma Solution

With the application of Lean Six Sigma tools and techniques, significant performance gains can be achieved simply by eliminating non-value activities including:

Optimizing Performance

Delivering quality does not need be at the expense of the budget. With the application of Lean Six Sigma, it is possible to exceed performance goals while lowering costs and ensuring quality.

The results are increased utilization of resources, increased capacity; lower cycle times and improved communication.
